Per G.C. 16, Headquarters U.S. Strategic Air Forces in Europe, the DISTINGUISHED SERVICE CROSS is awarded to:

SUMNER H. REDER, 0729903, Captain, AAF, USAl For extra-ordinary heroism in action with the enemy, 6 September 1943. On this date Captain Reeder was piloting a heavy bomber on a mission against well defended military installations deep in enemy territory. Just before turning into its bombing run his airplane was subjected to a particularly vicious attack by enemy fig ters. A 20 mm cannon shell exploded in the pilot's compartment which fatally wounded the co-pilot and seriously wounded Captain Reeder. Other cannon shells totally incapacitated the navigator and bombardier and severely damaged the airplane. With his right arm almost useless and suffering intense pain, Captain Reeder, entirely unaided, maneuvered the heavy and badly damaged aircraft so skilfully throughout a three hour running battle with determined enemy fighters that no more injury was suffered by the crew or the airplane. During this time, he continually spoke words of cheer over the interphone system to remaining crew members, never once mentioning his own wounded condition. Upon landing at a friendly base, Captain Reeder would not submit to medical attention until each of his wounded crewmen had been attended. The heroism and devotion to duty and to his rellow flyers displayed by Captain Reeder upon this occasion, reflect highest credit upon himself and the Armed Forces of the United States. Entered military service from Missouri.

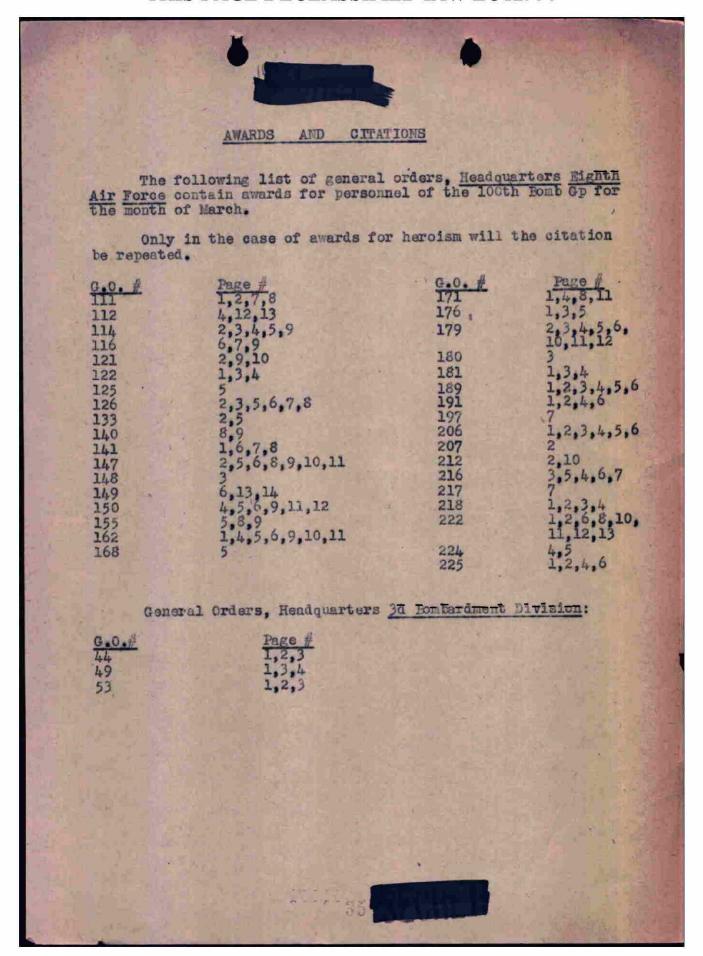

"This eward was made by General Spaatz in person. Captain Reeder is now commanding officer of the 349 Fomb Squadron."

Per G.O. 19, same headquarters, the DISTINCUISHED SERVICE CROSS is awarded:

DEAN M. RADTKE, 0-468393, First Lieutenent, AAF, USA. For extraordinary heroism in action with the enemy, 30 December 1943. On this date Lt. Radtke was serving as Filot of a B-17 airplane on a bomberdment mission deep in enemy territory. The flight in which Lt. Radtke was flying was attacked by enemy fighters in great strength shortly before reaching the target. In the running battle which followed Lt. Radtke was seriously wounded about his neck, face and hands, by an exploding cannon shell, his co-pilot was killed and his airplane suffered severe damage. Realizing that to lose position in the formation meant certain destruction for his airplane and his crew. Lt. Radtke, barely able to use his hands and fighting against unconsciousness from loss of blood,

With 13 combat missions and a full program of practice mission flying, most of the month's ground school was cancelled. The losses incurred in the Perlin missions during the first of the month were not filled until the end of March and the first of April. With the new crews arriving the way was cleared to resort back to the indoctrination program that all crews must go through before flying combat. Most of the crews left after twenty crew losses in the first five or six days of March were kept busy enough filling the groups quota of mission crews to bother too much with ground school.

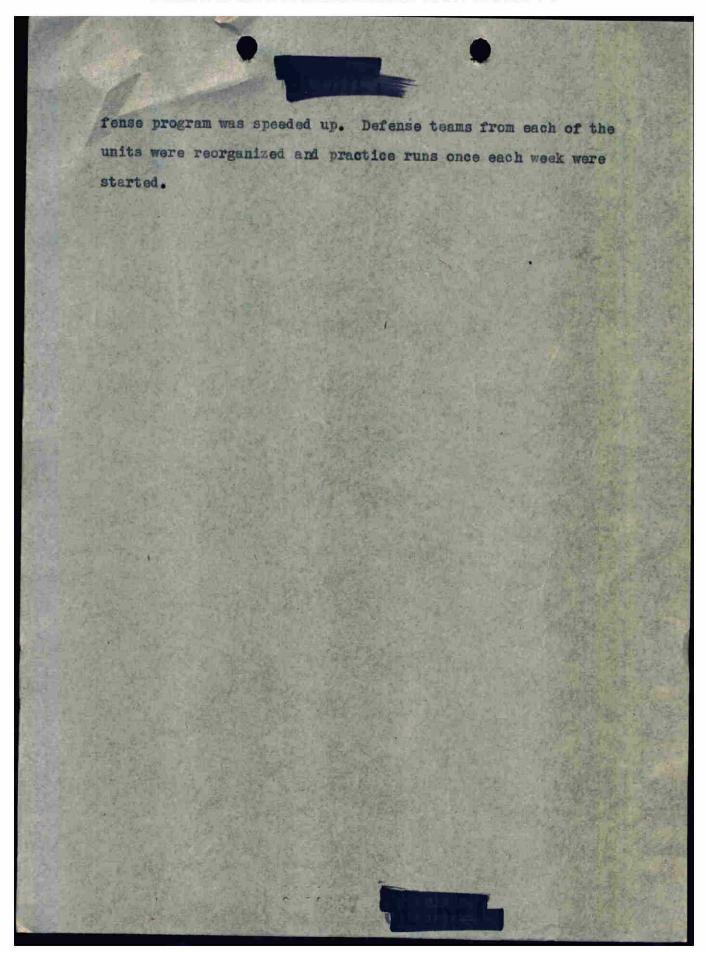

The only new course in ground school noted during the month was a series of lectures on the parachute, its rigging and its use. All crew members attended.

Ground Defense

On the 31 of March at approximately 0400 and enemy aircraft believed to be a JU 88 bombed the field from an altitude of between 300 and 500 feet. Two 250 lb. UG bombs were dropped on either side of the long runway where it is crossed by the short one. The craters left by the bombs measured up to 30 feet wide by 12 feet deep.

There had been no slert. It is believed the aircraft had followed the RAF back and been attracted by lights of workmen on the runway. There were no casualties.

With promise of more such attacks to come, the ground de-

Visit of the Generals After the shellacking over Perlin when this group lost fifteen aircraft on 6 March and a couple each of the preceding days, faces were drawn and morale was low. On the 13th Lieutenant General Spaatz, Major General Doolittle (his third star was announced the following morning), Major General LeMay, and Brigader General Kissner plus adjutants and secretaries arrived to hand out awards and shots in the arms. And they did.

After dinner in the Officers' Club, General Doolittle described the mission of the Eight Air Force and its problems. General Spaatz followed regreting that it had to be this group that absorbed most of the losses that such a mission as those to Perlin must entail and congratulated those left on the spirit in which they were carrying on. Then General Spaatz made the prsentation of awards, highlighted by Captain Reeders winning of the D S C during a mission on 6 September 1943.

rormalities over, the Generals were at the disposal of the airmen, signing short snorter notes and discussing any phase of anything that was brought up. General Doolittle was surrounded by a large group interested in the Tokyo raid.
When asked, "General, who flew your plane?" he ejected a "Well I'll be Goddamned!" He then explained the training each of the pilots had to go thru, taking the 25's off on a dime, and only the very best were selected. Seems we had read somewhere that he was one of them.

RED CROSS

During March the Red Cross took on several new programs to amuse the boys. In connection with the Station Special Services section, a couple programs of classical masic featuring stars from Albert Hall in London thrilled every one who was fortunate enough to arrive in time to get a seat. Cecelia Keating, famous New Zealand violinist was with the first group of artists, while Ir. Swales-Atkinson, Fritish baratone featured a later program. Both were excellently recieved and they did much to open up a new realm of enjoyment for many of the listeners.

Two Red Cross shows were put on in the Aero Club during the month. They were passable if you were really hard up for amusement, but are generally second-rate even in comparison to the USO variety.

The Fritish staff, aided by a couple GIs named Joe, who probably like that sort of thing, got under way on a victory garden. If used to supplement the diet of the cafe then it will be a very worthwhile project.

Horam took the count of this base in Ping Pong while Hardwick bested the hometowners in snooker. Liberty runs for the purpose of taking men horse back riding was a successful inovation. Scene - Longstraten.

Favorite passtime still are the square dances every week.

Most appealing part of it is that fatigues are acceptible. Adds a great deal of abandon to camp life,

SPECIAL SERVICES

March brought the courtin down on the basketball season. In the division play-offs Rattleston knocked out a six point deficit in the last two minutes and that the home team by a point. In the base league, the 349th Sq and the 350th Sq played two out of three for the championship with the former getting it over with in two outings. The first game was close and the second was merely a formality. Adams and Sullivan of the 349th, showed evidence of maybe having trod the boards before.

Poxing took the limelight with this base being elected to put on the division championships. They were held in the Elister Hangar with a full house on hand. No one seems to have kept a record of events, or if he did, he's gone. Our entries walked out with four of the seven crowns. Al Altman of the 1776 was one, Glen Seibel of the same ouf another. Billy Grindle of the 349 beat a guy named Crumpton for a ribbon, and Harold Geary of the 418th beat a fellow named Mendoza for the heavyweight crown. Mendoza was the bagger too.

PW Show

Over the 31st of the month the station turned out to do something for the boys who are prisoners of war. An officers committee of eight and the Special Services Council of enlisted men took the job in hand and did a fine job. 1650 pounds were raised, a quarter of the Division quota I am told.

Bombing Accuracy

According to the charts put ourt by the 13th Combat Wing, bombing accuracy was not so good in March as it had been in months immediately preceding. This was generally true throughout the Air Force. From photographs of hombbursts a percentage figure of 35.6 within 1000' of the AP, 65.4 within 2000', was arrived at for the 3d Division composite for the month. Though somewhat better than the 1st and 2nd Divisions it is not up to the standard of preceding months. The 100th Bomb Groups contribution to these & figures was even less than the Average. Though figures for March alone are not available, the group composite for February and March were 33.6 within 1000' and 58.0 within 2000'. Some conclusion might be arrived at by looking separately at the missions during the month on which figures are available.

March 2 the airdrome at Chartres was the terget. Acredited with only 56% inside the 2000' circle, diminishing to 17% in the 1000', bombs were reported to have fallen to the left and over the MPI. Two hangars were hit, several aircraft on the ground destroyed, perimeter in fromt of hangars torn up, and the field left under a pillar of smoke.

March 3 produced no bombing. March 4 was Berlin with pathfinder. 13 aircraft of the 100th flying with 13A Combat Wing returned with photes sufficient enough to identify terrain. From computations based on trajectory charts, bombs fell in woods and fields criss-crossed wrant night ays and railroads.

March 6 this group lost 15 aircraft. Target was Berlin again. 4 of our aircraft flying with the 95th hit woods 3000' south of target and residences 1 mile west of target. Those with the 13 B Combat Wing overshot target by 4000' in the woods.

Fombing manufacturing area of Erkner on March 8, the preceding 40th and 45th Wings obscured the target. Bomb plot reveals that our bombs patterned about 2000' short falling heavily in residential districts.

Missions on the 9th and 15th were thru 10/10 undercast.

On March 16, Augsburg was the secondary target. Intending to bomb Gablingen visually, a 10/10 undercast turned the formations to Augsburg with FFF.

On the Munich raid, 18 March, photos show bombs hit hotels appartments and factories in the center of the city.

Pombing by Squadrons on 19 March, the high element put 33% within 2000' of MPI. Others were a mile west of target.

On 22 March with the Heinkel factory at Oranienburg obscured the secondary target Ferlin was hit starting large fires in residential and manufacturing districts.

On the 23rd Pathfinder. On the 27th, blying high group with the 45th Combat Wing, the Bordeaux/Merignac airdrome was hit by at least 75% of our bombs within 2000' of MPI. On the 28th Chateaudun airdrome was attacked with the 100th flying high group in the 13 Combat Wing. Smoke obscured designated MPI so lead bombardier picked a large hangar as his aiming point. I.B.s

completely covered that building and two dispersal bay hangars. Estimated that 91% fell within 2000', 55 within 1000', and 22% within 500' of the MPI. Engineering Problems - There were no new problems during March. Equipment Problems Modifications mentioned previously are continuing to a lesser extent in as much as equipment in much larger quantities is now available. Serious shortages have been overcome by completing central locker rooms for both officers and enlisted men and allowing short items to be issued only to those flying.

JOURNAL OF THE 349th SQUADRON, 100th BOMB. GF. (H), for the month of MARCH, 1944.

March was at once the most sorrowful and the most glorious month in the experience of the Squadron, at least up to that time. We lost 70 men, many of them veterans, and seven aircraft. Our little mascot donkey, Mo, died on the first day of the month; on the last day, our field was bombed by an enemy plane, though no casualties and only minor damage resulted.

But our crews bombed Berlin-Big B, the fabulous targetno less than for times during the month, reducing it from what had been recarded as a suicide target to the level of a routine long haul.
Of the small formation of American bombers which attacked the German capital for the first time in daylight, on March 4, two were from the 349th.

All our losses were connected with the Berlin operations, but not all were due to enemy action. Three of the seven missing planes were victims of foul weather; on March 3, day of the first abortive thrust at Berlin, they simply feiled to emerge from the cloud mass which towered more than five miles high over the North Sea and Northern Europe. There were collisions in this appalling soup, and some, if not all, our Scusdron's lost planes may have been involved.

The other four of our ships missing during the month fell wishes to the enemy's frantic and viciously effective fighter, defense on March 6, day of the first big blow at Berlin. Losses of the 8th Air Force (68) and of the 160th Group, as well as our own Squadron, bit a new high that day, but hundreds of U. 3. bothers did get through to the target, to give the Nazis a foretaste of hell in their own capital.

In March, Lt. Col. John M. Bennett, Jr., our Squadron Commander since November 1943, left the 349th to become Air Executive, later Acting Commander, of the 100th Group. Command of the Squadron was assumed by Capt. Sam L. Barr of Mississippi, bantam-sized, lion-hearted, unanimously beloved veteran of 25 missions; a flying warrior with no taste for military forms, but nevertheless an intelligent and conscientious executive.

Our base was bedazzled by stars-generals' insignia-in mid-month, when Lt. General Carl Spaatz, commander of the United States Strategic Air Forces in Europe; Lt. General James Doolittle, dadiy of the Tokyo raid, and commander of the 6th Air Force; Maj. General Le May, commanding, and Brig. Gen. Kissner, deputy commander of the 3rd Bom. Division, made an over-night visit. They discussed the Berlin battles with our officers who were there, pinned on some richly-merited decorations, and were highly diverted by the 349th's two Big Joes--Capt. Joseph P. Armanini and Lt./Joseph Kelly-- singing a somewhat scurrilous and ribald song of their own aithorship, and desling with the unhappier aspects of combat life in the Flying Fortresses and the ETO.

Missions flown by the Equadron in March reached the new record total of fifteen, despite almost continuously bad weather; snow and clouds and fog and drizzle were worse than during any of the inter months.

The daily journal:

March 1: Mo (originally named Mohammed, regardless of her gender) died today, despite efforts of amateur veterinarians in the Squadron, and a professional summoned from a nearby town. Her fatal illness was not definitely diagnosed; she was stricken only about twenty four hours before her death, with symptoms of great pain and rasping breath. Some thought it was pneumonia, while others suspected that her omnivorous appetite, which caused her to devour sosp, sticks and cinders as voraciously as she did candy and cookies, may have brought her to her doom, through the ingestion of some poisonous or congestive substance.

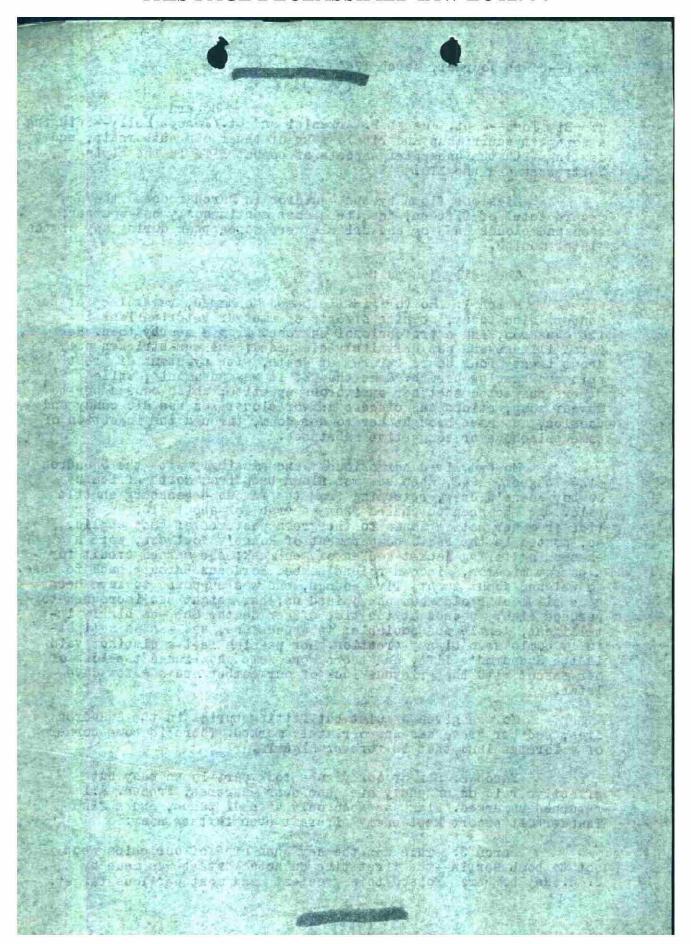

Mo had lived harmoniously and amusingly with the Squadron eince August, 1945, when she was flown back from North Africa by Cowboy mosne's crew, returning from the famous Regensburg shuttle raid. She had been purchased from an Arab for about $10. On her ride from her native sands to the green pastures of East Anglia, Mo, posted in the radio compartment of Roane's Fortress, wore a sheepsking flying jacket and an oxygen mask; she earned credit for a combat mission, since herblene bombed Bordeaux enrouts back to base. Mo weighed about twenty five pounds, and was supposed to have been some six months old when she joined us; her weight had increased to perhaps eighty pounds at the time of her death. She was highly intelligent, gentle and sociable; in appearance, she was as delightfully comic as a Disney creation. Her passing left a distinct word in the Equadron's life, and there were some who linked the loss of our mascot with the grievous luck of our combat crews a few days later.

Mo was given a quiet but fitting burish in the Squadron area, and her grave was appropriately marked. There is some corner of a foreign land that is forever Algebra.

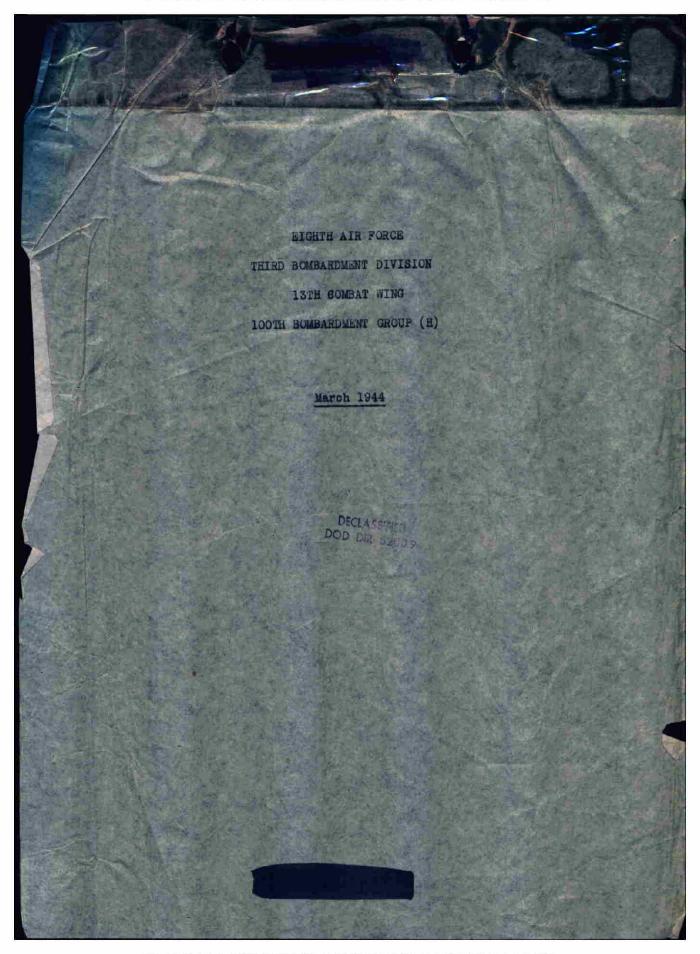

March 2: Six of our planes took part in an easy but effective raid on an enemy air base near chartres, France. All returned unmarked. Flak was seen only at a distance, and a fine Thunderbolt escort kept enemy aircraft even farther away.

March 3: This was the day when nine of our ships went out to bomb Berlin--the first time an actual start was made by U. S. day bombers toward this greatest and most perilous target.

The 100th Group left the coast 3 miles left of course and 2 minutes early. The enemy coaste was crossed at 4952 - at - 1630, 4 minutes early. Due to a misunderstanding between pilot and navigator in the lead ship, a course of 185 instead of 195 was flown from the coast being corrected in the vicinity of Roven. The briefed I.P. was not used but 4837N - 0103E instead, arriving there at 1648 hours, 4 minutes ahead of schedule. The axis of the bomb run was 150 MH. and the bombs were released at 1654.

The comb run was from NW to SE. The eastermost of three handars were hit by several bombs and probably destroyed. The pattern was scattered across field. Some dispersal areas and barracks type buildings were hit. Practically the entire airdrome was covered with smoke as the group pulled away.

Leading the 13th Combat Wing, no enemy aircraft attacked any of the airplanes in this gorup. 8 single engined enemy fighters were observed very low over target area. Flak ranging rom meager to moderate was encountered over Rouen, Bernay, and the target area.

No aircraft are missing from our formation. Captain Hughes of the 351st Squadron lead.

SUBJECT: Operational Narrative, 3 March, 1944, Berlin.

TO : Commanding Officer, 100th BG.

- 1. General Narrative, 100th "A" Group: Twenty aircraft took off at 0718 hours. By 0750 hours the gorup formation had assembled at 2000 feet over the base.
- 2. Aircraft not attacking; Tweny aircraft departed this base in formation. Twenty aircraft were dispatched. Aircraft #42-39934 turned back at 1030 hours, altitude 20,000 feet. Aircraft #42-31074 turned back at 1049 hours, altitude 20,000 feet. Aircraft #42-30487 turned back at 1120 hours, altitude 20,0000 feet.
- 3. Missing aircraft: #42-39817 and 42-38017 are missing. Nothing is known of the cause of my of these aircraft. #42-38017 reparted that he was going to Sweden.

- 1. General Marrative, 100th "B" Group: Twenty-one aircraft took off from this base at 0700 hours. By 0759 hours the gorup formation had assembled over the field at 6,300 feet. By 0910 hours the Combat Wing had assembled at 16,000 feet.
- 2. Aircraft not attacking: Twenty-one airGraft were dispatched.
  #42-39994 turned back at 1044 hours, 54 09 N, 05 26 E, altitude 20,6000
  feet. #42-30061 turned back at 54 00 N, 08 20 E, altitude, 21,500 at 1115 hours

All aircraft in this group returned.

Plak at Heligoland was moderate but accurate although not in our gorup!

At 1130 hours although no apparent recall was issued, all aircraft were seen to be returning to base. Our position at 1130 hours was 5345 N

09 40 E. Our briefed altitude was 22,000 feet, but by this time we were at 26,000 feet and still not on top of the overcast. The o eroast was broken through at 27,000 feet but the lead element of the formation was nowhere to be seen. Each aircraft, after having been separated in the overcast separated and returned to the base alone.

No bombing was done. Bombs were jettisoned in North Sea, at 1150 hours in the lead aircraft.

Three of our aircraft are missing. The pilot of #017 was heard to say, on VHF, that he would try to make Sweden. Aircraft #970 and #817 disappeared in the clouds over North Germany and were not seen again.

Aircraft #059 made a visual bomb run on the airdrome located just North of Hassum. Cloud cover prevented observation of results.

All other aircraft of both "A" and "B" groups jettisoned their bomb loads.

le General Marrative, 100th "A" Group. Group formation took off at 0835 hours. By 0940 hours twelve aircraft of the group formation had assembled over Colohester at 12,500 feet. Because of the delay of approximately 30 minutes in take-off it was impossible to make the first two control points. The rendezvous with the 13th "A" Combat Wing was finally made at Clacton at 1030 hours, altitude 20,6000 feet. The Combat Wing formation was depleted, and not a good formation.

The climb to bombing altitude was started at Claston at 1030 hours and was made at 150 I.A.S., 300 feet per minute. Rather than levell off at the ordered bombing altitude, the climb was continued to 27,000 feet at the I.P. to get over cloud formations. The enemy coast was crossed at 1051 hours at 25,000 feet. The last 2,000 feet of the climb was made in different stages to get over various cloud layers.

The I.P. was rached at 1301 hours, the route to this point was as briefed. The visibility over the target was very poor. The three groups went over the target abreast and bombed on the PFFF by V.H.F. notification. After bombing, the turn was made to the Rally Point. The descent was begun immediately after bombs away and was made at 155 I.A.S., 100 feet per minute. The R.P. was rached at 1330 hours, altitude 20,500 feet. The descent was continued to 12,000 feet, when we levelled off at 15000 hours.

The enemy coast was recrossed at 1638 hours, and the escent to minimum altitude was begun immediately thereafter. The English Coast was recrossed at 1700 hours at 7,000 feet. Our base was reached at 1720 hours, having followed the briefed route all the way. The lead aircraft landed at 1725 hours, the rest of the gro p landing by 1746 hours.

- 2. Aircraft Not Attacking: Seventeen aircraft departed this base, twelve aircraft in formation. Three of these aircraft, #389, 537, and 957 turned back fefore reaching the dispatch point. Fourteen aircraft were dispatched. This does not include #735 which was counted as dispatched. with 100th "B" Group and was scheduled to fly with 100th "B" Group, but flew with 100th "A".
- 3. Lost Aircraft; #42-38016 is believed to have been shot down by enemy aircraft near the target.

General Marrative: 100th "B" Group. Formation took off at 0819 hours. By 0840 hours the lead and high squadrons were formed west of the field approximately 15 miles, at 5,000 feet in good formation. The group climbed in this area to 17,000 Peet about 45 miles west of the field. We thought that we were with our combat wing, but it was the wrong group. so we turned back to Splasher #6, at 19,000 feet. We saw that wer were going to be late at the first control point, so we informed the 390th Group that we would meet them at the second control point. Splasher 6 was reached 4 minutes early, so we made a 180 degree turn and fell in beside the othe two groups. The groups were identified by an exchange of flares and V.H.F. We were then separated from them by two gorups that flew between us, forcing us to the inside of the turn, had to fly over the top of the other groups and snothe group forced us south of our turned point. We fell behind, and were unable to catch our wing again. After the 13th Combat Wing straightened out we saw that we would not be able to catch them. Anohter Combat Wing was sighted to the north, so we took a heading to intercept them. We were unable to intercept them, however, so we turned on the briefed course and returned to base.

It is suggested that weather reconnaisance should be more accurate along the briefed course.

The climb to bombing altitude was begun at Splasher 6 at 1002 hours. The climb was made at 150 I.A.S., 200 feet per minute. We then levelled off at 21,000 feet over the second control point, at 1012 hours. The enemy coast was crossed at 1046 hours.

Thethe enemy coa t we started climbing again to get over the blouds. After reaching 24,500 feet we saw that we could not catch the wing formation, so turned back at 50 48 N, 02 32 E, getting flak as we turned.

The French coast was recrossed at 1102 hours and started dexcending. The English coast was recrossed at 14,500 feet at 1122 hours. The Descent was made at 170 I.A.E., 600 feet per minute. The descent was continued to a point 15 miles west of the base where we levelled off at 2,000 feet and proceeded to base, landing at 1200 hours.

2. Aircraft Not Attacking: 19 aircraft departed this base, 10 aircraft in formation. 5 aircraft turned back before being dispatched. These were #087, 256, 8000 508, 767. 13 aircraft were dispatched. None of the aircraft attacked the target, and all returned.

The aircraft of this Group that completed the mission flew as high group in the composite formation. No enemy a reraft were encountered until we reached the IP. At that point 20 to 30 single engines fighters attacked. Attacks began at about 1310 hours and lasted until 1340 hours. Engay appeared to be operating in groups of 12 to 14. They would fly parallel to and high to the right of our formation to a postion about 2000 yards ahead. They would then turn and spread from 11 to 1 o'clock and come in to attack. After spreading they appeared to pick targets and attacked singly, in pairs and three's. Attacks were extremely fast and most of the attacking aircraft would pass within 50 feet of our planes. After passing through our formation they would queue to the right and repeat the same attacks. About 5 of these attacks were made before our excort came in in force near the RP and dispersed them. Only 20 mm and machine gun fire was observed from these enemy oraft. After this group of attackers were driven off by our escort, P-51's, no others were seen along the route from the target.

Bombs ere dropped in the western part of Berlin on Pathfinder flares. Visibility was very poor, but some crew members were able to see part of Berlin through breaks in the undercast and one tail gunner reported smoke in what he believed to be a residential section of the city. Observations were made from altitudes of approximately 27,000 feet. Photographs show some ground through undercast, but do not show bomb burts.

Fikk encountered is rated as follows: Ostend, meager and inaccurate, Ghent, meagre, inaccurate; Magdeburg, intense, barrage and tracking, accurate; Berlin, intense, scattered over large area, and very low; Charleroi, meagre, inaccurate; and at the coast, very low.

One of our aircraft is missing. Aircraft #065 fell out of formation near the IP with one engine smoking and disappeared into the undercast. No chutes were seen. Following is a list of the crew members:

SUMPECF: Report of the Operations Officer, Mission 6 March

100th "A" Group

1. General Narrative: The 100th "A" Group formation took off from this base at 0754 - 0826 hours. The formation consisted of 15 aircraft which had assembled in good formation by 0835 hours over the base. The 100th "A" Group led the 13th "F" Combat Wing; the 100th "F" filled in the low position, being supplemented by aircraft of the 95th Group. There was no group in the high position. 15 aircraft of this Group formation were dispatched.

The English Coast was crossed at 1016 hours at Aldeburgh, 3 miles north of the briefed course. The formaton was god it continued good throughout the mission. The enemy coast was recrossed on the return trip at 16,000 feet, 1510 hours at 52 40 North, 04 50 East. The English Coast was recrossed at 1537 hours at Great Yarmouth. The lead ship landed at this base at 1602 hours.

The primary target was not located; bombs were away at 1323 hours on a target of o portunity - a factory district near Eerlin.

2. Aircraft Not Attacking: 15 aircraft departed this base in form to on as shown on the formation diagram marked "100th A" Group - After Assembly" 15 aircraft were dispatched. A/C 42-37807 turned back from the I P at 1205 hours, returning to base at 1526 hours. 42-32009 turned back from 52 38 N, 08 04 E at 12000hours, altitude 21,000 feet, landing at this base 1403 hours.

Four aircraft, namely: 42-39872, 42-31731, 42-38197, 42-30799 are missing in action. No particulars of their fate are known at this time.

11 aircraft of this formation, including the aircraft returning carly, returned to this base.

100th "E" Group

1. General Marrative: The 100th "F" Group formation, consisting of 20 aircraft departed this base at 0757 hours. A good assembly was made at 0833 hours over the base. The 100th "F" Group assumed the low group position, supplemented by six aircraft of the 95th Group. The 100th "A" Group led the 13th Combat Wing; no group in the high position. The Wing assembled at Splasher 7 at 0956 hours. We were about 8 minutes behind the rest of the Division at all times herein mentioned. We crossed the English Coast at 1019 hours; the enemy coast at 1107 hours, altitude 20,000 feet. The climb to bombing altitude had commenced immediately after leaving the English Coast. After crossing the enemy coast we had 17 aircraft in our group. Flak commenced immedeately after crossing the enemy coast - moderate to heavy. Fighter attacks commenced at 12000 hours at 52 36 N, 07 46 E. Heavy attacks were made by ME 109's and FW 190's 75 to 100 enemy fighters were seen; 40 to 50 made attacks on our group. They came in head-on and without regard for their safety The lead aircraft of our formation had its controls shot away. The verticle stafilizer was ripped off by a mid-air collision with an enemy fighter. The lead aircraft returned with the 390 Group after jettisoning its bombs at 1210 hours at approximately 52 40 N, 08 10 E (Germany).

After 1200 hours the group was under heavy fighter attack by a great number of FW 190's and ME 109's. The group was broken up; most of the high scuadron was shot down and the lead ship was knocked out of formation.

Fighter support was good for a time after leaving the enemy coast on the way in; it was poor thereafter. However, from the target back to the coast it was very good.

Over Perlin, showers of red balls were seen from flak bursts. Red flak smoke was also seen - a parently a signal for enemy fighters.

The descent was begun at 1300 hours. The enemy coast was recrossed at 1512 hours at 52 37 N. D4 37 E. The English Coast was recrossed at 1540 hours; base was reached by 1632 hours.

2. Aircraft Not Attacking: 20 aircraft departed this base in formation as shown on the formation chart. 17 aircraft were dispatched; 16 aircraft attacked the target.

Aircraft 42-32018 turned back at 1032 hours from 14, 000 feet, 52 04 N, 02 28 E, landing at 1117 hours. 42-31895 turned back at 1132 hours, after being dispatched, from 20,000 feet, 52 28 N, 06 19 E, landing at 1231 hours. 42-35175 turned back at 0924 hours from 9,000 feet, 51 57 N, 00 42 E, landing at 1050 hours. 42-5087 turned back at 0910 hours from 9,000 feet over splesher 6, landing at 1116 hours.

Eleven aircraft, namely; 42-38011, 42-31735, 42-38044, 42-30170, 42-38059, 42-30278, 42-31800, 42-97482, 42-97491, 42-31051 and 42-39994 are missing in action. No further articulars of their fate are known at this time. 8 aircraft returned to this base, including the aircraft that returned early. This do s not include 42-31306 which landed at Honington because of tattle damage.

ADDITIONAL NAR ATIVE

All crew members believe that bombs fell very near the P.T. Some say the P.T. was hit, while others claim that our bombs fell in a wooded area a short distance NE of the P.T. Fires were observed in the wooded area where tembs fell. No photographs were obtained on this mission.

We lost 15 crews on this mission. Definite assessment of losses is made difficult because of the intensity of enemy aircraft attacks. It is believed that a great majority of aircraft lost by this grop may be charged directly or indirectly to the attacks between 1200 and 1245 hours. During this period of attack both E-17's and enemy aircraft we e going down on all sides. It appears that at least six of our ships and about 10 from other groups were knocked down in this attack. Large gaps were knocked in formations and during the latter stages of the tattle, it appeared that many aircraft were fighting out of formation. This situation makes it impossible to know exactly when or where most lost aircraft went down. The following instances were noted by crew members.

At 1200 hours, near 5230 N - 0715 E, two of the group's aircraft were knocked down in the initial attack by enemy fighters One was identified as 751 and the other was unidentified. They were smoking as they went were lightly spirals. 4 chutes were seen. At the same time #944 went down with two engines smoking, and no chutes were seen. At 1208 hours, near Dummer Lake, #197 was hit by enemy aircraft and went down with no chutes visible. At 1210 hours #799 was hit and its tail set on fire. It went into the undercast under control. At 1211 hours, north of Hanover, #044 was hit and went down - no chutes seen. A couple minutes after either #170 or #051 went down - 4 chutes were seen. #872 was hit by flack over Perlin and was last seen straggling behind with no. 4 engine smoking but under apparent control. #011 was hit at 1423 hours, near Diephol, peeled out of formation with its right wing flaming. No chutes were seen. In addition chutes were seen scattered over a large area that could not be credited to any particular aircraft in distress. SUBJUET: Report of the Operations Officer, Mission & March

1. General Narrative: Fifteen aircraft, including the lead Pathfinder aircraft, took-off from this base at 0850-0902 hours. By 0912 hours the group had assembled over Harleston at 2,000 feet the 100th Group led the 13th Combat Wing; the 95th Group was high; the 390th low group. Our formation was excellent throughout the entire mission. Shortly after our group had formed, we picked up the 95th. The Combat Wing formed rapidly thereafter, for we soon were joined by the 390th Group.

By 1027 hours the Combat Wing was in formation over Colchester at 15,000 feet. The English Coast was crossed at 1059 hours, altitude 15,000 feet and seven miles southeast of Cromer. The climb to bombing altitude commenced at 1104 hours, seven miles off the coast. The enemy coast was crossed at 1149 hours at 22,200 feet on course. At 1205 hours, 52 45 N, 0303 E There were 59 aircraft in our Combat Wing. Aircraft 42-40056 in our group fell out of formation with engine tro ble. This happended near Dummer Lake. The ship appeared to be under control when last seen. Flak directed at us was not heavy. Enemy fighters began their attack in the vicinity of Hanover. Most of the attack were directed at the wing ahead of us. Instead of attacking from the sun - where our fighter support was flying - the enemy attacked from away from the sun.

Huge fires were observed in the target area and a great deal of smoke. Fombs ere away at 1437 hours, altitude 22,000 feet, approximately 52 26 N, 13 46 E.

altitude 14,400 feet; the English Coast at 1655 hours. The lead aircraft (PFF) landed at its base at 1747 hours. The rest of the 100th group landed at thorpe Abbotts by 1335 hours. After bombs away, the descent began t 1514 hours, I.A.S. 170, 300 feet per minute.

2. Aircraft Not Attacking: 15 aircraft, including one HFF departed this base in formation. 15 aircraft were dism tched.
14 aircraft(including PFF) attacked the target in formation. One aircraft, #056 is missing in action and did not attack the target.
It was last seen leaving the formation with apparent engine trouble but under control in the vicinity of Dummer Lake, Germany. No further particulars are known of this aircraft.
13 aircraft returned to this base.

All navigators and bombardiers were certain that our bombs hit very near the P.T. but wer unable to determine the exact spot they hit because of smoke caused by the bombing of formations that bombed ahead of us. Dense smoke and flame was pouring from the target at the time of our bombing. Fombing was done on the Pathfinder.

There were no direct frontal attacks on ships of this group. Enemy fighters passing close were just recovering from attacks into other formations. The following is a list of the personnel aboard #056 which was lost due to engine trouble.

SUMFCT: Report of the Operations Officer, Mission 9 March Berlin.

spares dem rted this base in formation at 0730-0739 hours. The 100th Group formation flow as low sqm eron in the 95th Group which led the 13th Combat Wing, with the 390th Group flying in the low group position in the Combat Wing. Py 0830 hours our formation had joined the 95th Group at 4,100 feet over Splasher #6. The Wing rendezvous was made with the 390th Group by 0951 hours, 15 miles west of Colchester. Our Wing dep rted the English Coast at Lowestoft at 1024 hours, six minutes late. Throughout the mission, the formation was good.

The enemy coast was crossed at 1111 hours on course. The ascent to bombing altitude had commenced as con as we formed with the 95th Group. The ascent was 150 miles per hour, and better than 300 feet per minute - rate of climb, as we had to "push it" to keep up with the group. For bing altitude, 23, 000 feet was reached at 1010 hours. Bomb bay doors were opened at 52 40 N, 13 18 E. Pombs were away at 1403 hours. The enemy coast was recrossed at 52 45 N, 04 40 E, 8 miles North of the briefed route, at 1534 hours - 39 minutes late. The English Coast was recrossed at 52 32 N, 01 43 E three miles North of Lowestoff. The lead aircraft landed at 1622 hours.

After bombs away, the descent commenced at the rate of 300 feet per munute, 165 L.A.S. at 1,25 hours. There were no fighter attacks against our group. Our fighter support was excellent. Flak was heavy at times, but inaccurate. Evasive action by our group kept it at a distance. Chaff, used in quantity, appeared to be of assistance, especially over the target.

The primary target was obscured, so we tombed the secondary target - the heart of Berlin - on the lead Pathfinder aircraft and through a 10/10 overcast.

2. Aircraft Not Att cking: Nine sircraft departed this base in formation, including three spares. Bix aircraft were dispatched.

Spare aircraft 42-6087 turned back at 1912 hours, altitude 4,200 feet, 52 45 N, 02 23 E, returning to base at 1139. 42-31895 turned back at 1045 hours, altitude 23,000 feet, landing at the base at 1134 hours. 42-31249 turned back at 1108 hours from 52 30 N, 04 40 E, landing at 1205. Aircraft #968 turned back at 1050 hours, and $047 at 0944 hours.

Four aircraft at acked the target. All returned.

SUBJECT: Operations' Officer's Report, Mission 15 March, Target Brunswick.

1. General Narratives The 100th Group formation departed this base 0639-0654 hours. The formation, consisting of 21 aircraft, had assembled over the base at 2,400 feet by 0659 hours. The 100th Group lew the low position in the 13th Combat Wing with the 390th Group in the lead position and the 95th Group in the high position.

The Wing rendezvous was not made as briefed, but was mee at Sneatherton Heath.

The English Coast was departed at 0905 hours at Loweste. The enemy coast was crossed at 0940 hours at 52 35 N, 04 37 E. We then proceeded to Luigen, at 1017 hours. The I.P. was reached t 1054 hours. Fombs were away at 1100 hours, tombing on the athfinder aircraft. The lead aircraft was hit by flak o er the target and was seen to go down in flat spin. The deputy leader took over the lead here. At 1150 hours we passed over Dunmer Lake on the TH of 318 degrees. We reached appen at 1207 hours, the took a TH of 286 degrees.

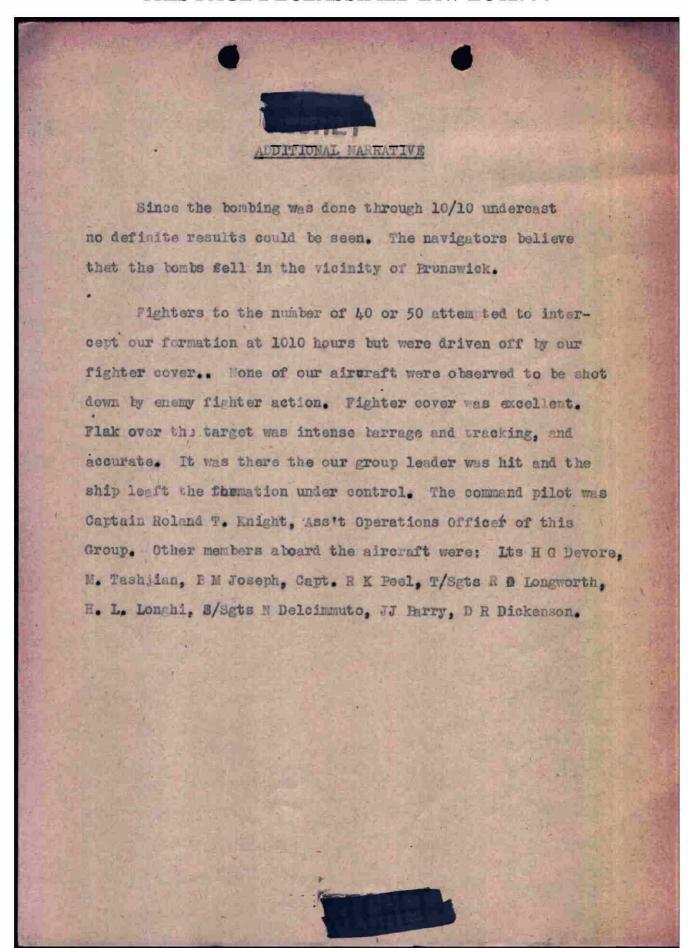

The enemy coast was recrossed at 1243 hours at 17,000 feet. The English Coast was recrossed at 1325 hours. 3 mules a south of Lowestoft at 8,000 feet. Home base was reached at 1333 hours, the lead aircreft landing at 1347 hours.

2. Aircraft Not Attacking: 21 aircraft departed this base in formation. 19 aircraft were dispatched.

#42-31710 turned back at 0745 hours from 51 56 N. 01 02 E. altitude 4,000 feet, landing at base at 0800 hours. #42-31968 turned back at 0910 hours from 52 38 N. 02 16 E. altitude 15,000 feet, landing at base at 0952 hours.

SUBJECT: Report of the Operations' Officer, Mission 16 March, Augsburg.

1. General Narrative; Twenty-four aircraft, including three spares and the lead Pathfinder aircraft, departed this base 0700 0714 hours. By 0727 hours the group had assembled in good formation one mile east of the base at an altitude of 2,000 feet. The 100th Group led the 13th Combat Wing; the 390th "A" Group was in the high position and the 390th "B" Group was in the lcw group position. The Wing rendezvous was made by 0925 hours. We departed the English Coast on time at 0934 hours at Folkestone, altitude 17,000 feet. The enemy coast was crossed at 50 05 N, 01 25 E at 0945 hours. We were 8 miles north of the briefed point on the enemy coast, but on time; altitude was 20,000 feet. At 1206 hours we turned to the I.P., north of the briefed course and 7 minutes late. Bombs were away at 1223 hours 12 minutes late. The descent commenced at 1239 hours. The descent commenced at 1239 hours, altitude 13,000 feet, 50 03 N, 01 20 E. The English Coast was recrossed at Dungeness at 1520 hours, altitude 5,000 feet. The lead PFF aircraft landed at Alconbury at 1634. The rest of the group landed at base 1605-1627 hours.

Our fighter support was excellent until we reached the target. There, enemy fighters engaged our Pe51's who dropped their belly-tanks to enter the gight. As a result of dropping their tanks, they left for home early. There were some P-38's present; P-47's picked us up at 1329 hours.

2. Aircraft Not Attacking: 23 aircraft, including three spared and one PFF departed this base. 21 aircraft were dispatched. Three spares returned early to this base. Their times and positions were the same inasmuch as they returned together. #767, #936, #256 turned back at 0935 hours, altitude 17,000 feet.

ADDITIONAL NARRATIVE

Bombing photographs show only clowds. All bombardiers report dropping on the Pathfinder, who reports dropping in center of the city.

About 30 enemy single-engined fighters attacked at about 1038 hours, near 4840N-0435E. The principle attacks were pressed against other wings with intermittent attacks against this group. At about 1152 hours, approximately 30 enemy aircraft, mostly ME 110's were seen firing rockets into the formations from 3 o'clock. The duration of this attack was 4 to 6 minutes. Flak encountered throughout the mission was generally meagre and inaccurate.

All the aircraft returned safely.

SUBJECT: Operations' Officer's Report, Mission Munich, 18 March.

Main 100th Group

1. The main 100th Group formation took off at 0908 hours. By 0945 hours the group formation had assembled. We then cut Splasher 7 short to the north to make up time and arrived at Bishop Stortford at 1053 hours as ordered. We then proceeded to Cambridge, arriving there at 1102, one minute early. At 1123 hours the combat wing rendezvous was made at splasher 7, at 12.300 feet.

The climb to bombing altitude was played, and begun over the channel. Bombing altitude was research at 1308 hours. The enemy coast was crossed at 1207 hours 18 N, 01 15 E on the briefed course.

At 1210 hours the group leaded and the whole group came around with him before it was aborting. Although he had called the depote the impression that the group leader was making a turn to avoid the impression that the group lead ship.

The low squadron then took over the lead and continued on course, joining the 385th Group at 1227 hours. At 1257 hours we ran into clouds and the groups scattered. We took a heading of 110 degrees after breaking through and joining "K" group 20 miles south of course. The briefed course was intercepted at 1400 hours at 48 08 N - 09 07 E. On a heading of 36 we turned at the I.P. at 1414 hours. We flew over Augsburg and about 20 miles west of Munich, then took a heading of 90° and dropped our bombs at 1438 hours, 24 minutes late.

The route out was 8 to 10 miles north of the briefed course. The French coast was recrossed at 1745 hours, at 49 58 N - 01 15 E, on course. The lead ship landed at 1855 hours.

2. Aircraft Not Attacking; Twenty-three aircraft including two spares left base in formation. The two spares, #710 and 968 turned back before being dispatched.

Of the 21 aircraft dispatched, six failed to attack the target. These were #s 090, 256, 389, 941, 903, and 537.

3. Missing aircraft; 42-39830 and 42-37913 collided in the air at approximately 1210 hours, shortly after crossing the French coast on the route in.

#42-3508 had trouble keeping up with the formation all the way. Last seen at 1511 hours, 42 22 N - 10 01 E, altitude 16,400 feet dropping back with no feathered props.

95th 100th Composite Group

1. The general narrative; Six aircraft took off at 0900 hours to join aircraft of the 95th Group and fly low squadron. We climbed individually over Splasher 6, and by 0930 hours the squadron had formed at 8,000 feet still not on top of the cloud cover. The 95th group was joined at 1020 hours over Buncher 11 at 9,000 feet after having climbed to 16,000 feet in an effort to get on top, then let down again when visibility improved. Tw then climbed in the 3rd Division area to air attitude of 13,000 feet. We were late in reaching our first control point at Buncher 11 which was ordered for 1002 hours, so approaching from the west we cut it short and turned south to Splasher 7. We were 5 minutes late at Splasher 7 so we cut this leg short and turned south to Dungeness, missing Splasher 8 and departed the English coast at Dungeness at 1042 hours on time. The enemy coast was crossed at 17,000 feet at 1200 hours, one minute early. We continued on course to 48 30 N, 05 00 E, arriving at 1253 hours, two minutes late. This was due to the fact that we tried to climb to our briefed altitude of 18,000 feet and were forced back down to high cirrus clouds and heavy contrails. We then stayed on course until 1318 hours, 48 20 N, 06 50 E, two munutes late.

The climb to bombing altitude was begun at 1318 hours, but we were forced down to 19,000 feet by high cirrus, and we remained at this altitude for our bomb run. At 1353 hours we were 48 05 N, 09 40 E, six minutes late. We then turned into the I.P., 48 25 N, 10 28 E, arriving at 1412 hours, opened bomb bay doors on a red-red flare for a visual bomb run. Our target was left open by a hole in the undercast, which was about 7/10.

The bomb run was short. Slight evasive action was used until about 30 seconds before tombs away at 1417 hours. The lead squadron flew on a north heading to Donsworth at 1429 hours, then tokk a heading of 270 degrees to Gunzburg at 1441 hours, which was 5 miles north of course. The remainder of the route out was from 2 to 5 miles north of course. The enemy coast was recrossed at Dungeness, rather then Beachy Head, because of fuel shortage. Landing at this station was made at 1820 hours.

All aircraft attacked target and all returned.

SUBJECT: Operations Officer's Report, Pas de Calais, 19 March.

1. General Narrative: The 100th Bomb Group formation took off at 1520 - 1525 hours. By 1540 hours the group formation had assembled at 3,100 feet, 5 miles south of the base.

The climb to bombing altitude was begun at this point and was reached at splasher 7 at 1740 hours, three minutes early. From there we proceeded to splasher 6, out it short and arrived at Dungeness at 1800 hours, 6 minutes early. We did a 350 degrr turn and left Dungeness at 1805 hours, one minute early. The briefed course was followed to the primary target, light accurate flak being encountered over the enemy coast, which was crossed at 1812 hours.

Bombs were away at 1814 hours, the bombs being dropped by squadrons. The briefed course was followed back, the descent being started after bombs away.

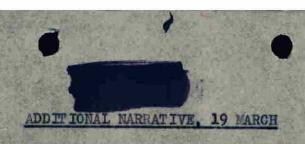

The English coast was recrossed at 1828, and home coast reached at 1900 hours, the lead ship landing at 1902 hours.

Two aircraft had one bomb each hanging in their racks. These were jettisoned in the channel on the way back.

2. Aircraft Not Attacking: Twenty-four aircraft, including three spares, departed this base in formation shown in diagram Spare aircraft #'s 487, 986, and 534 turned back before being dispatched. Twenty-one aircraft were dispatched.

All twenty-one aircraft bombed the target.

All our aircraft returned to this base except #968, which landed at Raydon because of flak damage.

The bombing was done by squadrons. The lead squdron got no good photographs, but results are believed fair to good. Some bombd were seen to fall short. High squadron photos show bursts several hundred yards short, but the photo does not appear to show all the bursts of the squadron. The low squadron left a concentration of bursts northwest of the target with results generally believed to be poor.

No enemy aircraft were seen on the mission. The flak was continuous while over enemy territory. It varied from meager to intense, and some was very accurate on our aircraft. Several ground rockets were observed. Enemy gunners were tracking our formations, and occasionally firing green or yellow bursts. On the bomb run it was especially accurate. Visability was good and the aiming point was plainly seen by the bombardiers.

1. General Narrative: The 100th Group formation took off at 0815 - 0835 hours. By 0845 hours the Group formation had assembled ever Farnlingham at 4,000, not at 2,000 as planned, because of a layer of cloud at 2,000 feet. The group formation then separated going thru the overcast and it was not until after the wing assembly, which took place at 6,400 feet, at splasher 6 at 0931 hours, that the group reassembled completely. The English coast was departed two miles east of Cromer at 0949 on time. The ground speed was much faster than planned, and the wing "eased" to lose time.

The climb to bombing altitude was begun at 0949 hours at 155 I.A.S. with 21 ships in the group formation. Bombing altitude was reached at 1210 hours, the same time the enemy coast was crossed, at 42 26 N - 08 57 E, 14 miles to the left of the briefed course. On the route in the target more "essing" was done to lose time.

Rombs were away at 1319 hours on P.F.F. on the primary target, eleven minutes early. Violent evasive action was taken after bombs away, as the flak was intense and accurate.

The rally was effected as planned. The route out was from 10 - 15 miles north of the briefed course. The enemy coast was re-crossed at 1515 hours, 52 41 N, 04 38 E, three miles north of course.

At Perlin one aircraft was forced to leave the formation because of oxygen trouble, and bombed a target at 53 43 N, 10 30 E.

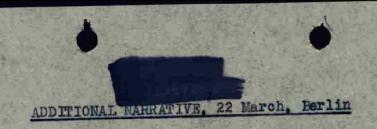

The English coast was re-crossed at 1600 hours, 52 15 N, 01 40 E. Home base was reached at 1615 hours, the lead aircraft landing at 1624 hours.

2. Aircraft Not Attacking: Twenty-four aircraft, including three spares departed this base in the formation shown.

Two spares returned while the other #783 filled in for #621 which left the formation.

Twenty aircraft bombed the primary target, and one aircraft beombed a T-O. All aircraft returned.

Pombs were dropped through 7/10 undercast near the center of the city of Berlin. Flashes could be seen in built-up areas and fires were observed through breakes in the undercast. On the way out a large amount of amoke could be seen rising over the target from 50 miles distance.

The fighter support was excellent throughout. No attacks by enemy aircraft were observed on any of the formations. Groups of enemy fighters were observed but none came close to any of the bomber elements. Though flak was encountered at Sylt, Neu Munster, Perleberg, Neuruppin airdrome and other places along the route it was meagre and inaccurate. Over Berlin it was intense and accurate for six minutes.

SUBJECT: Operations Officers Report, Brunswick, 23 March

1. General Narrative: The 100th Group formation took off at 0605 - 0625 hours. By 0647 hours the group formation had assembled over Splasher 6 at 5,000 feet and proceeded to Manning Tree where the 95th Group joined the formation in low position. and the 390th E Group high. The wing rendezvous was made at 0801, one minute early, at 17,000 feet.

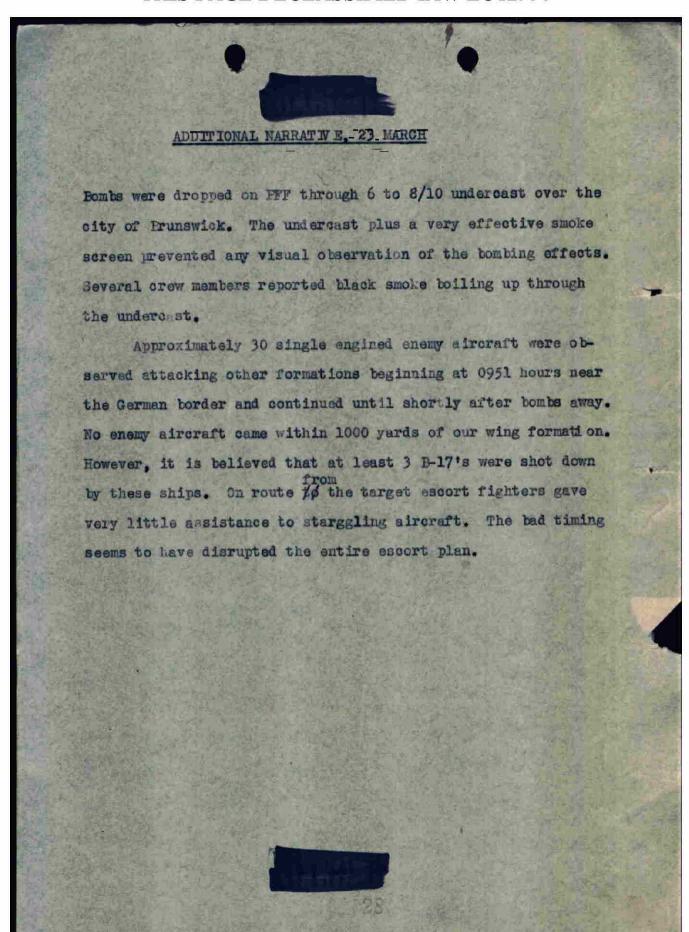

The climb to bombing altitude was begun at 0830 hours and was made at 150 IAS, 300 feet per minute. This was at Lowestoft, the point of departure from the English coast, which was made two minutes early. The enemy coast was crossed at 52 37 N 04 37 E at 0910, 15 minutes early on course. We leveled off here at 22,000 feet, but a few minutes later started to climb again to 24,000 feet to excape contrails. This altitude was reached at 0926 hours. We reached 52 40 N, 07 11 E, which was short of the briefed turning point, at 0945 hours. The point was confused with a fighter rendezvous. We were west of the briefed course at 52 43 N - 09 13 E, and turned at 1009 hours. The I.P. was reached at 1027 hours, 41 minutes early. Bombs were away at 10372 hours, 41 minutes early.

After bombing, the rally point was reached at 1041 hours. From here on out the route was south of course, through the northern edge of the Rhur Valley.

The enemy coast was re-crossed at 1200 hours, 31 minutes early, at 51 40 N, 03 40 E. The English coast was recrossed at 1229 hours at Aldeborough. Pase was reached at 1245 hours and the Group landed at 1248 - 1309 hours.

2. Aircraft Not Attacking: Twenty- four aircraft de arted this base in formation, including 2 PFF aircraft and three spares. Spre aircraft #'s 42-37783, and 42-31981 turned back before being dispatched. #127 took the place of #957. Twenty-one aircraft were dispatched including two PFF ships.

All the aircraft dispatched attacked the secondary target, and all returned.

l. General Narrative: The 100th Group formation took off 1005 - 1024 hours. There were layered cloud formations which made the group assembly difficult, and Buncher 9 and Wisbech were emitted. Cambridge was reached on time, at 1132 hours, and splasher 7 at 1141 hours, on time. The group was finally assembled when we left the English coast at 1215 hours on course. The 100th Group Joined the 45th B Combat Wing at 1200 hours rather than the 45th A Wing as briefed, because of weather.

The French coast was crossed at 1245 hours, at 14,000 feet, 49 20 N. 01 06 W. 3 minutes late.

The climb to bombing altitude was begun at 1328 hours, and was made in several stages due to the weather. Fombing altitude was reached at 1432 hours.

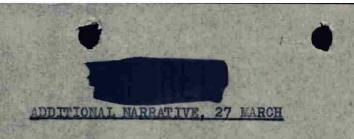

The French coast was crossed again at 46 28 N, 01 44 W. At 1401 hours we joined the 45th A Combat Wing, flying low Group. The I.P. was reached at 1439, three minutes early. The route flown here to the target was the route ordered and bombs were away at 1448 hours. A sharp left turn was made immediately after bombing to get out of the flak.

The French coast was recrossed at 1532 hours, and we dlew four miles to the right of course to 49 22 N, 01 11 W, where the French coast was crossed again at 1646 hours. The English coast was crossed five miles west of Brighton at 1723 hours. Home base was reached at 1815 hours and the group landed 1816 - 1850 hours.

2. Aircraft Not Attacking: Twenty- four aircraft departed this base, including three spares. Spare aircraft #42-5957 turned back before being idspatched. #983 turned back because or engine trouble before being dispatched, and it's place in the formation was taken by spare aircraft #42-31987. #154's place was taken by spare #42-3534. #42-31981 turned back before being dispatched. Thus, 20 aircraft were dispatched, and all of them attacked the primary target.

No aircraft were lost by this group.

The target, the airdrome at Fordeaux, was a little difficult to pick up since asphalt runways were hardly visible. The aiming point was located 45 seconds before bombs away. There was a ground haze around the target area and moderate flak during the bomb run. Crews report the bombing results good. Large fires were started in several areas of the airdrome. A few minutes after leaving the target area a huge explosion was observed giving off black and yellow smoke.

Small groups of enemy fighters were observed around La Roche, but none attacked our formation. Flak ranged from moderate inaccurate to meagre inaccuarte at La Roche, D'olleron, Hiscarosse Cazaux and the target, and a rocket bettery was observed at Dolleron also.

SURTOOT: Operations Officer's Report, Mission 28 March, Chateaudun.

1. General Marrative: The 100th Group formation took off at 1044 - 1100 hours. By 1119 hours the group formation had assembled at 1,800 feet over the base. At 1131 hours the 390th and the 95th Groups were seen approaching, and we joined them at 1137 hours over Buncher 11 at 8,300 feet.

It was necessary to lose time so we made large turns until departing the English Coast at 1307 hours, at 50 47 N. 00 41 W.

The climb to bombing altitude was begun at 1137 hours and was made at 150 I.A.S., 250 feet per minute. Hombing altitude was reached at 1222 hours. The enemy coast was crossed at 1335 hours.

The route from the enemy coast to the target was flown from two to four miles to the right of the briefed course to the I.P. The briefed I.P. was reached at 1410 hours.

Rombs were away at 1417 hours, the 100th Group second in the 13th Combat Wing to go over the target. After bombs were away the rally point was reached at 1420 hours, and the rally was effected as planned, except the time.

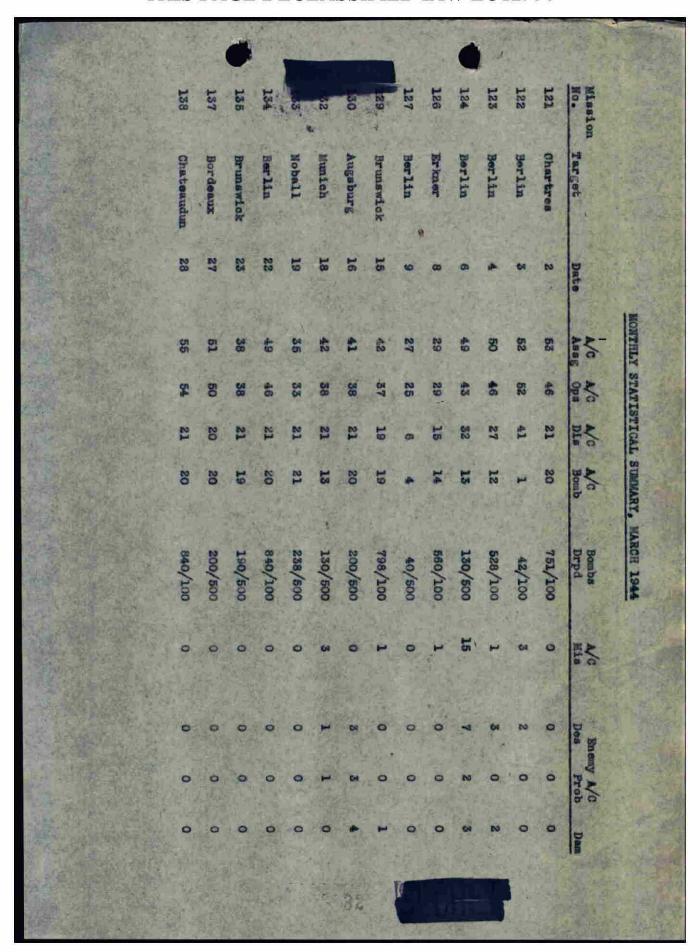

The enemy coast was re-crossed at 1453 hours. The descent from 18,000 feet was begun here. The English Coast was recrossed at 1529 hours at 50 45 N, 00 16 E. Home base was reached at 1618 hours, the group landing at 1627 - 1655 hours.

2. Aircraft Not-Attacking: Twenty-one aircraft departed this base in formation. Twenty-one aircraft were dispatched. #42-3008 turned back after crossing into enemy territory. Twenty aircraft attacked the target.

All returned.

ADDITIONAL NARRATIVE

Photographs indicate that the westernmost of two bargars are completely destroyed on the airfield. Dispersals and fuel dumps are ablaze. There was no enemy interference on the bomb run and the aiming point was visual from some distance. However, smoke from preceding groups caused the lead bombardier to use the alternate aiming point, the hangar, No enemy aircra t were encounted on the whole mission.

No. 3 -- journal of the 349th -- March.

Weather, and weather alone, defeated this mission, and brought particular disaster to the 349th. Three of our crack crews, to say nothing of their planes, vanished in the clouds somewhere over Northern Europe, or the sea; there was no evidence to indicate they were victims of enemy action. One pilot, Lt. John G. Gossage, sent out a brief radio call to the effect he was going to try to reach Sweden; no word came from the planes commanded by Capt. Gerald R. whom Putnams and Lt. Robert D. Vollmer, both topline pilots which/the Squedron could ill afford to lose. The same was true of Lt. Gossage, our hard luck skipper whose skill and courage had won in three previous close contests with death, and of Capt. Robert H. Lohoff, another senior pilot who rode with Putnams. All these officers were in sight of the end of their tours of duty, as were many of their crew members.

Our six planes which survived the indescribable dangers of blind flying in a sky full of bomber planes also had to combat severe icing conditions as they flew low over the North Sea, coming radio home. Incidentally, there was confusion over the/recall; it did not appear to have been received promptly by all ships, and some wandered farther than was required.

March 4: Two of our planes actually bombed Berlin this day; they were piloted by Lts. C. I. Montgomery and M. V. Wilson. We sent out six ships, but only these two managed to break through the weather to the target. About the same proportion prevailed throughout the 8th Air Force, for only a few dozen bombers out the hundreds dispatched got over Big B to give it its first taste of daylight bombardment. There were fighter attacks on our ships, tut they were beaten off. T/Sgt. George W. Burton, a top turret gunner, shot down one enemy aircraft practically over Berlin.

No. 4-- Journal of the 349th--March 48 1

We lost no planes from this mission. The takeoff was made in a snow squall, fitting forerunner of the weather that lay shead.

March 5: No operations; routine ground duties.

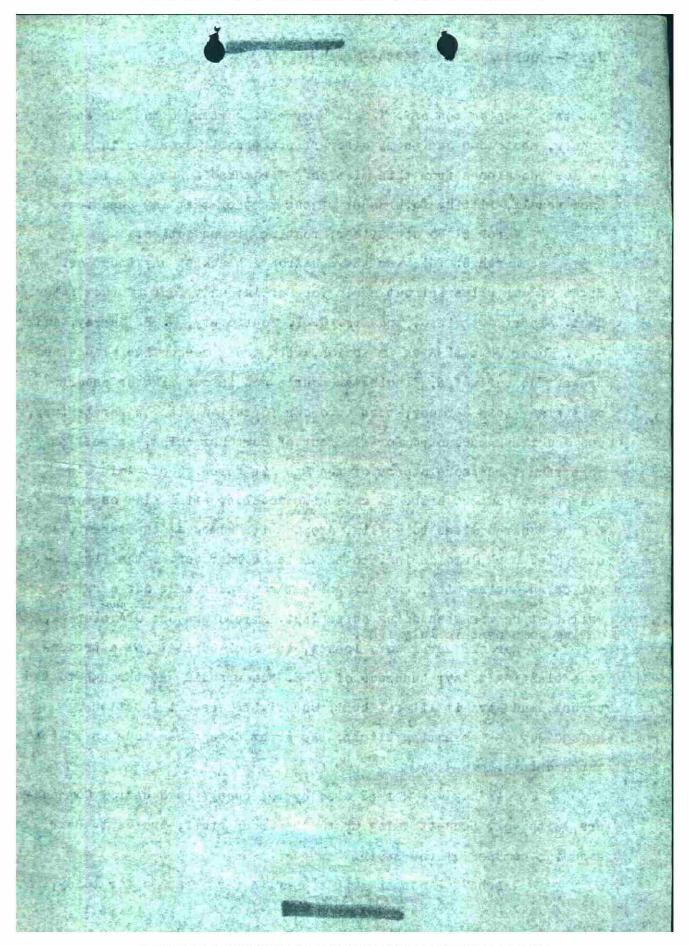

Eight of our ships set out again for Berlin; only four of them returned. Capt. Albert F. Imiero, and Lts. C. I. Montgomery, W. B. Murray, and B. C. Koper were missing in action, with their respective planes and crows. The Luftwaffe, finding an hour's gap in our fighter escort on the way into Cermany, tore into our formation with desperate fury, and doubtless accounted for all four of our lost ships, as well as more than three-score others of the 5th Air Force. Capt. Amiero's plane, hit and set afire in an engine nacelle, still flew on more than a hundred mises to Berlin, dropped its bombs on the target, and straggled back, smoldering, to the Dutch border before the fire engulfed an entire wing, and the gallant commander sent out a radio call that he was abandoning ship. Capt. Amiero was one of veterans, having some over in July 1945.

Tor all our record losses, the Nazi capital got a tramen-dous blasting today; hundreds of U. S. bombers and get through to the target, and gave it literal hell. Our fighter escort functioned splendidly on the homing flight; the great damage was done us on the outward trip.

This day was marked also by the change in Squadron Commanders, with Col. Bennett going up to the Group staff, and Capt. Barr assuming command of the 349th.

Harch 7: Another trip to Berlin was arranged for today, but was cancelled, because of weather, after the planes were loaded and primed. Cowboy (Owen D.) Roane, who came to us in July 1943 as a Flight Officer, left for the States today, wearing the latest coay, wearing the latest coay, wearing the latest coay captain's bard. The diminutive Texan had proved in twenty-six missions (he flow an extra one in Tebruary, after having completed his requisite tour of twenty five in December 1945) to be one of the ablest, most calmly fearless and daring of all our great pilots; and his personality endeared him to all of us who came in contact with him, from KP's to Colonel.

Merch 8: With Col. Bennett leading the Wing, two 540th planes took part in a highly satisfactory bombing of an important bell-bearing plant in the suburbs of Berlin. Our formations surfered no loss, though there some brick fighter attacks in the target area, and three gunners of the squadron shot down one each an enemy sircreft. They were Lt. J. T. Johnston, S/Sgt. C. J. Hopkins, and S/Sgt. W. E. Moreland. Photos showed the bombing by our planes to have been very accurate and destructive. Col. Bennett was recommended for the Silver Star for his gallentry and superior leadership on this mission.

on the last of this first series of Berlin attacks today, but was not required, and returned to base before penetrating enemy territory.

Merch 10,11, 12, 13, 14: Nothing worthy of record) weather continuously too bad for operations.

March 15: We sent three planes on the relatively uneventful mission to Brunswick, which was bombed through clouds. All our air-craft returned, with no casualties; they had come is sight of some enemy planes, but those were driven off by our escort.

No. 6-- journal of the 349th-March 44.

March 16: Six of our planes today joined in a deep penetration of Southeastern Germany, the target being the town of Augsburg. All returned, with personnel intact, though they encountered some fairly fierce fighter opposition. Three gunners of the 349th shot down an enemy aircraft apiece; they were Lt. C. G. Polak, S/Sgt. H. R. Kemble and S/Sgt. C. W. Lynch. On this mission, twelve of the mysterious four-engined German planes, twin-tailed and firing cannon from wing mounts, were seen, and attacked another formation than ours. Single specimens of this aircraft had been observed before by our Group, and one was reported to have shot down a Fortress on a grevious mission.

March 17: No mission; routine activities.

Merch 18: Again we sent helf a dozen ships on a mission to Augsburg, this time bombing an eir base near the town. Today, for the first time, one of planes came all the way back to base with a dead men aboard; he was T/Sgt. Sherwyn W. Myers, radio operator, who was killed at his post by enemy fighter fire. In this brief but brisk battle with a considerable force of Focke-Wulfs and Messerschmitts, the death of Sgt. Meyers was double evenged by his fellow-airmen of the Squadron; S/Sgt. D. B. Greene and Sgt. J. A. Pontzions each shot down a Jerry craft. Though the undercast in the vicinity of Augsburg was heavy, our formation was fortunate in finding an opneing directly above the target, and bombed with excellent results. None of our ships were missing.

Merch 19: On a short, comparatively easy mission to the anonymous targets near Calais, six of the Squairon's planes went, and all came back, with no worse damage than a few holes from the enti-eircraft fire which was intense and accurate on the bombing run. Results of the bombing were not good, according to intelligence reports, though some of our bombs did strike in the target area.

No. 7--journal of the 349th--March 44

On this mission, old Zero Eighty Eight--"Squawkin Hawk"-following came back to the wars efter having been laid up for repairs/EXEX the Regensburg trip, 25 February. Today's sortie was the 46th for this veteran Fortress; she was flown by Lt. (later Capt.) Charles

A. Brooks, making his 26th mission. Lt. Brooks was one of the Squadron's original pilots, and had completed his regular 25-mission tour some three months previously. Also a member of "Squawkin Hawk's" crew on this raid was Sgt. Jim Stiff, oldest enlisted man in the 180th Group, making his first sortie.

March 20, 21: Routine activities; no missions.

March 22: Berlin once more was the target for today's attack, in which six of our ships perticipated. The center of the city was bombed. Our planes were not attacked by enemy fighters; our escort was strong and constant. Flak was terrifically intense over the city, but we had no losses today.

March 23: Our Squadron led the Wing today on a mission to Brunswick. All five of our planes came back unscathed; no enemy fighters came within range, and flak, though intense at times, was not accurate. The "chaff" defense-showers of narrow strips of metallized paper-worked splendidly for our bombers today, as it had previously when properly used. Chaff appears to be astonishingly effective against ground fire when clouds prevent visual siming of the guns; their radar aiming devices seem to focus on the chaff rather than intended targets. Our airmen often reported flak bursts streamers; the enemy's mervelous mechanical gun pointers were functioning perfectly, but not against our planes. Chaff, conceived and first used by the British, seems to be one of the most efficient, and surely the simplest, device of this air war.

No. 8--journal of th. 349th--March 44

March 24, 25, 26: Worse weather than usual precladed operations; routine ground activities.

March 27: After a long surcease from 5th Air Force ettentions, the enemy in the vicinity of Bordeaux got a high explosive call today. Six plenes of the Squadron went along and returned, after bombing a German airdreme destructively. Crews reported moderate flak over the target, but no resistance by enemy aircraft.

Kerch 28: Chateaudun sirdrome, southwest of Paris, was the target for today. Five of our ships went on this uneventful mission; all came home sound. No enemy aircraft, and only moderate flak were encountered.

March 29,30: Routing activities -- no missions.

March 31: At about 4 o'clock this morning, the Squadronand naturally, the whole base-got a startling demonstration of the enemy's ability to hit back at us, given just the right breaks. In the dead hour before the dewn, when most of us were asleep and others were out on the line, grooming the planes for a mission, a daring and crafty German pilot, probably in a Ju 88 plane, swooped low over a runway of our field and let go two 500 pound bombs, which exploded a few seconds apart. The runways, most conveniently, had their marker lights burning; the lights had been switched on to guide a British plane, which had radioed it was coming in for an emergency landing after a trip to Germany. Obviously, the German plane had tailed in close behind the British aircraft, thus baffling the radar detector system and preventing the sounding of an alert.

No. 9-- journal of the 349th-- March 44

Were the first intimetion that we were under attack. It was even said the the enemy plane came in over the runway with its landing lights on, as though it were going to set down, and the men in the control tower and about the field assumed it was a friendly ship.

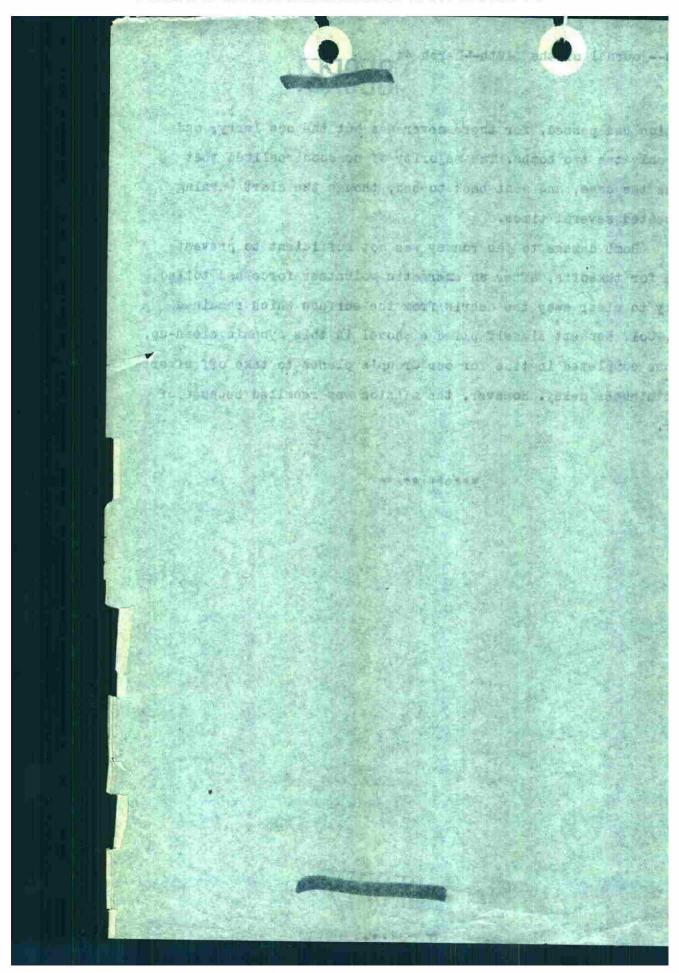

When the bombs roared, ta/the men on the line made frantic and often ludiorous scrambles for cover; they dived into ditches full of mud and water, into sand piles and through thorny hedger. Curiously, there was at least one men juite near the bomb bursts who kept right on with what he was doing, because he didn't know enything untoward was happening. He was up in the cockpit of a Fortress, revving up the engines in a preflight check, and simply couldn't hear the exlosions above the noise of his Cyclones.

In the living areas, our huts were staken, objects were tumbled from shelves by the twin blasts, and the sleepers were abruptly aroused. Some thought the explosions were our own bombs, accidentally detonated, and waited for the rest to let go; others were too grows with sleep to think of anything, while the rest had a fairly accurate idea of the situation. Many of us lay in our bunks and discussed the matter for some minutes after the bombing, until, at last the "Red alart—take to the shelters!" came, in scared accents, from the Tannoy amplifiers. Then we tumbled out and dressed against the frosty chill, and straggled to the bomb shelters—well after the need for

DIARY OF 351st BOMBARDMENT SQUADRON, 100 BOMB GROUP, FOR MONTH OF FEBRUARY 1944.

The mighty aerial onslaught to pulverize prime Axis military targets in preparation for opening the Second Front reached new heights during February 1944 when combat airmen of the 351st Bombardment Squadron contributed their share of the hazardous tasks by making 108 sorties and dropping the greatest tonnage of high explosive and incendiary bombs ever destined for enemy objectives during any preceding month, a record of the month's activities discloses. The increase in aerial operations far overshadowed all other events in February affecting the squadron.

Besides participating in bigger and more concentrated raids, the squadron was fortunate in achieving the feat of all combat personnel and planes returning safely from a record-smashing ordeal of 13 missions. This encouraging news from the aerial front line raised hopes of many that a speedier end of hostilities in the European Theater of Operations could be expected. The month's amazing operational record easily surpassed that for January when only seven recognized missions were made. The absence of casualties was an outstanding feature of February's activities, a marked improvement over January.

The frequency of raids hastened the completion of combat duty for seven officers and two enlisted men. This group was transferred to the 12 RCD, where most everyone is believed to have received orders for returning to the states on a 30-day furlough before reporting for a new assignment.

A tragedy was recorded for February claiming the life of S/Sgt. Ralph Buchanan, a bombsight maintenance man. Buchanan, whose home was in Green Castle, Pa., died February 4 in a London hospital as a result of injuries sustained in accidentally falling from the second floor of a London building two days previously. The victim, who had been a member of the squadron since nearly the beginning, was buried in Brookwood cemetery near London.

Other events ranking fairly high in the way of interest included the presentation of the Distinguished Flying Cross to T/Sgt. Raymond Harjo, receipt of a direct second lieutenancy commission by S/Sgt. Donald O. Ellis, and the good record made at times by the basketball team and boxers.

Harjo received the DFC citation February 16 for displaying exceptional courage by remaining at his post as aerial engineer after being seriously wounded in the face by ensmy fire while on an operational mission.

The unexpected happened to S/Sgt. Donald 0. Ellis, tail gunner who finished his 25 missions in December, when he received a favorable response from his application for a direct commission as a second lieutenant. The president's order arriving the early part of the month was unexpected in view of the fact that direct commissions to men already in uniform are considered rare. Ellis, in order to be eligible for a commission, received an honorable discharge from the army on February 7 and immediately was commissioned a second lieutenant. Lieutenant Ellis is now a gunnery officer at a nearby bomber base in the ETO.

The squadron fared moderately well in athletics during the month by competing with other units on the local base in basketball and boxing. The cagers, managed by Cpl. Harvey Woods, a former star athlete in Virginia prep circles, won second-place honors in league competition for the regular season. Their record in the base tournament was not too impressive because of losing to both the 350th Bomb Squadron and to the Group Headquarters detachment. During the regular season, the 351st quintet annexed encounters from the 418th squadron, 28th Station Compliment squadron, 1776 Ordnance company, 1276 Military Police company and the Group Headquarters team.

The high cage scorers for the squadron were S/Sgt. James Schollard and Sgt.

Rudolph Zulkiewicz, both playing guard positions. Other first team members were Cpl. Harvey Woods and S/Sgt. John Bergstrom, forwards, and Pfc. Howard Swank, center.

Substitutes included Sgt. Donald Conklin, Cpl. Salvatore Sogga and Pfcs. Arthur W.

Gretenhart, John Atkinson and Ernest Jiminez.

In boxing, four members of the squadron participated in bouts staged by the base emerging with three wins and three defeats. Sgt. Paul Deane maintained a spotless record by triumphing on two occasions. Cpl. James J. Dineen tasted both victory and adversity in his two ring appearances. Deane, a 135-pounder, scored a quick win in his debut match by gaining an 18-second knockout. His second victory was a three-round decision. The remaining two fistic setbacks were chalked against M/Sgt. Robert Boyle in the 180-pound class, and Cpl. Harvey Woods, entered in the 170-weight category.

Other events for the month worthy of mention were of a routine nature such as promotions, new arrivals and transfers.

Heading the list of boosts in officers' ranks was the elevation of our squadron commander, Major Ollen Turner, to the grade of lieutenant colonel. This promotion became effective February 28. Three other combat officers, all first lieutenants, John T. Griffin, John Love and Howard E. Keel, were hiked to captaincy during the month. Officers advanced to first lieutenants included Henry Quilici, Andrew H. Campion, Reuben G. Kelsey, Thomas R. Kizak, Robert K. Edgely, Edward Hendorf, Jack S. Neal, Eugene Mulholland and Earl R. Williams.

Sixteen enlisted men received promotions during February. Those boosted in grade are as follows: M/Sgt--Trafford Curry; T/Sgt--Henry C. Verdeur and Charles H. Ford; S/Sgt--Alfred M. Hunt, Steven M. Szekely, William L. Reneau, Joe S. Folsom, Daniel J. Maddrea, James M. Roberts, Robert M. Myers, Allen D. Horton, John L. Willsey, John J. Gverovich and Fair C. Lawrence; and Sgt--James M. Chase and Michael Schuster.

The squadron received seven new officers most of whom were assigned as replacements. Among this group were five combat officers. They included 2nd Lts. Albert A. Marchiando, Charles W. Mylius, Jr., Charles J. Galligan, Warren G. McCoy and Norman T. High. The ground newcomers were 1st Lts. Jack Bauman and Francis G. King, both assigned to the S-2 department.

New arrivals among enlisted personnel were saven airmen and eight members for the ground echelon. The combat men included T/Sgt. Dorsett C. Bennett, S/Sgts.

James R. Russell, Herbert D. Fern and Vincent J. Wood, Sgts. Carloton E. Brown and Charles E. McSpadden and Pvt. Edmond J. Sullivan. The other arrivals were Cpls.

James G. Fitzgerald and John W. Laudenslager, Pfcs. Billy M. Kimmel, Frank J.

Alberti, Louis G. Lasker, William Williamson, Elton L. Keller, and Pvt. Chester R. Lee

Transfers of officers from the squadron which numbered 13 included nine combat officers who had finished their tour of operations. Among the combat personnel seven were sent to the 12 RCD where most are believed to have been returned to the states for a 50-day leave. Those who went to the 12 RCD were 1st Lts. Donald Davis, Henry Quillel, Leonard A. Wickens, Jack S. Neal, Edward L. Dunlap, Reuben Kelsey and Alexander Park. Two other combat officers--1st Lts. Paul Pascal and Eugene

Mulholland were transferred to other organizations stationed in the ETO. Two other airmen--Capt. Magee Fuller and 2nd Lt. Albert A. Marchiando were assigned to the 850th Bombardment Squadron on the local operational base. Captain Fuller before the time of his departure served as squadron operations officer. The others leaving the squadron for new assignments were lst Lts. John Schwarz and Adam Bachmann, both of whom were members of the ground echelon. Lieutenant Schwarz was transferred to 100 Bomb Group Headquarters, while Lieutenant Bachmann received his new assignment at 3rd Bomb Division Headquarters.

Two enlisted men who had finished their tour of combat missions were transferred to the 12 RCD during February for likely shipment to the states for a 30-day furlough. They included T/Sgt. Walter Probst and T/Sgt. Winfred L. Tee. Other men leaving the squadron included M/Sgt. Trafford Curry, Cpl. Richard W. Page, Pfc. Joseph W. Heitzer and Pvt. Angelo J. Genovese.

In the diary for January, promotions for five combat officers were inadvertently omitted. Advancements were 1st Lt. Robert Hughes to captaincy, and 2nd Lts. Robert J. Shoens, Donald S. Davis, John F. Massel and Alexander G. Park to first lieutenancy.
